Approving the March Minutes

The Transition

- Welcome Sharon and Betsy to your new roles. Any comments or initial thoughts?

Ongoing

- Book Reviews (See Draft Document attached)
- Friends (Rich has contacted Terry Gottlieb re attending our May Meeting)
- Approval of Mission Statement

Moving Forward

- Next Steps re Mission Statement (Karen has suggested that we develop an Action Plan with completion dates before we take the Mission Statement to the Council or the public. Concrete steps to back up our idealistic words.)

Draft

The Cape Charles Memorial Library is looking for Student Book Reviews!

Now, young readers can tell all of their friends about a book they've read. Tell other students what you liked about the book. Tell people why they should read this book. Have fun with this review. Be creative. Reviews will be posted on the Library's website for all to see.

Middle and High school students may earn Community Service hours for their reviews.

What to do:

For our younger readers- Elementary Students

- Give the Title and the Author's Name
- List the main characters and tell a little bit about each one
- Tell a little about what happens, but don't give away the ending
- Tell about the part of the book you liked best and why you liked that part
- Give your opinion about the book (Great! Five Stars! It was OK...)
- Perhaps give a recommendation; who else might like this book? (If you like Dinosaurs, then this is the book for you...)

(Really little readers could draw pictures for some of these items if they can't put all their thoughts into words)

For our older readers- Middle and High School Students

In sentence/paragraph format:

- Introduce the book – Title, Author, Genre and perhaps why you chose this book
- Tell about the Setting, Characters, give a brief summary of the Plot, and the Theme(s)

- Give your opinion of the book. Make sure you give reasons for any positive or negative points. Recommend (or not) the book to other readers, and give reasons for why you make this recommendation.

Email? Submit? Hand in? your review to _____ at the library. Reviews will be posted on the Library website _____ (when? how often?)

What information do we need to identify the child? Name? School? What should we or should we not post identifying the child?
